

New Interchange, Bridge Three To Four Years in the Future

Construction of an additional Interstate 25 interchange and road with bridge across the Rio Grande is at least two, and as much as three to four, years in the future.

Why will it take possibly until 2011-2012 to even start construction on these projects, if such projects are deemed necessary?

Because there are many steps which must be taken in the process until a bid can even be let to begin the building of an interchange and road with bridge.

And there is a possibility that an interchange and a road with a bridge might not be constructed.

Money was allocated in the GRIP 2 legislation passed by the legislature in 2007 "for acquisition of rights of way, planning and design of an interchange and arterial crossing" in the Los Lunas area.

GRIP stands for Governor Richardson's Investment Program which invests in transportation needs and projects across the state.

The legislation called for the Village of Los Lunas to be the lead agency for the project. In addition, the bill authorized $2,031,300 for the project. The Village of Los Lunas will match that with $1,093,77 which is anticipated to be 35 percent of the total project cost.

MRCOG Leads Project

The Village of Los Lunas has asked the Middle Rio Council of Governments (MRCOG) to manage the project. MRCOG has the ability to act as a liaison between all local governments and can provide a neutral voice when issues need to be facilitated.

Loretta Tollefson, MRCOG Special Projects Manager, is overseeing the project. She has considerable expertise in mapping and economic forecasts and has worked in Valencia County and with Valencia County governments and citizens on the Mobility Plan over the last several years.

A Request for Proposals (RFP) has been released as the first step in the process of seeking a consultant to assist with the project.

Responses to the RFP are due in early October with a contract expected to be awarded within a month after that. The contract will be awarded by MRCOG in consultation with village officials.

Public Process Starts January

Once the contract is awarded then the public process is expected to begin in January, 2009, and the consultants will be asked to complete that process at least by summer, 2010.

Before construction can begin the following steps must be taken. These steps are required by federal and/or state mandates and must be accomplished in the correct order.

1. Perform an initial analysis of the need for an interchange. A good deal of this work has been accomplished through the creation of the Mobility Plan.

2. Identify alternatives including the alternative of not building the projects.

3. Narrow down the alternatives to only a few.

4. Create a more detailed and authoritative analysis of the alternatives identified as part of number three. This would include looking at the number of acres in the right-of-way, number of people that must be moved, environmental, archeological and cultural impacts and, of course, the estimated cost of these items.

5. Identify a preferred alignment. This would have to include a preferred profile of the facility with items such as number of lanes, needs for bicycle and pedestrians lanes, and the like.

6. If the build alternative is chosen then financing the construction is the next step. Both state and federal funds would be sought for the project..

A portion of the gasoline tax paid on every gallon goes toward highway improvements and some of this money could be sought. Legislative appropriations could also be requested.

County Has Internal Circulation Problems

Loretta Tollefson points out that one of the reasons the village is funding this project is to address the internal circulation problems in Valencia County which force traffic to use Main Street/NM 6 through the village in order to get to destinations outside of the village boundaries.

In addition, the county does not have a good housing and employment balance so it is necessary to get people to jobs that may not be close to the people's residences.

Together, these facts justify the study of the potential for a new I-25 intersection and road with bridge.

Many people know about the GRIP money and think that an interchange and road with bridge will be constructed in the near future, said Tollefson, but the long study process is made necessary by state and federal regulations.

She added that the public will be involved every step of the way in the process. She urged everyone to attend public meetings and express their opinions about the project.

Lessons Learned From Previous Study

Throughout the process, everyone involved will keep in mind the bridge study conducted several years ago in Valencia County. "Some lessons were learned from that experience," said Tollefson. "We intend to keep those lessons in mind as we proceed."

Summer Youth Program Beautifies Village

The Village of Los Lunas Summer Youth Beautification Program ended a highly successful session August 8.

The thirty-eight students cleaned many areas throughout the village. The students cut, raked and bagged weeds with truckloads and trailers of weeds hauled off to the transfer station on a daily basis.

The students were divided into three groups and on the last day each group washed and cleaned the program vans for the next group.

Students were treated to pizza and free video games at Big "C's" Pizza place on the last day also.

Kara Rael and Curtis Heppler supervised the students who were expected to be punctual for work and follow orders.

Summer Youth Program coordinators Marie Marquez and Josie Navarette said they hoped the students found working in the program a learning experience.

Both expressed their thanks to the parents for all their help and support and wished the students a safe and rewarding school year.
