New Survey Seeks Business Suggestions

The Village's Economic Development Department is conducting a survey which seeks input on what types of businesses people want to have in the Village of Los Lunas.

Economic Development Manager Ralph Mims points out that the Village has recently attracted various businesses while other businesses are looking at the area.

The survey is meant to determine the type of businesses lacking and what Mims should do to try to bring the businesses here.

Categories of businesses mentioned on the survey include:

- Restaurants;
- Clothing stores;
- Supermarkets;
- Ethnic and fast food restaurants;
- Quick take out food; and
- Big box stores.

Mims is also looking for people's choices of educational facilities, cultural facilities, and manufacturers/industrial businesses.

In addition, the survey asks people to name the top three businesses that should come to the Village of Los Lunas.

The survey is available on the village website at loslunasnm.gov. Mims can be reached at 839-5654, direct line; 604-4156, cell; or e-mail mimsr@loslunasnm.gov.

Looking Good for Your Customers

By Ralph L. Mims, Economic Development Manager

You never get a second chance to make a first impression. This is ever so true when applied to a business, its brand, and its customers.

We are a visual society and what we see impacts how we feel and think about things. Pleasant visual cues make us feel good; unpleasant images not so good.

We love watching television and YouTube videos, looking at nice images in magazines, and scanning pictures of our friends on Facebook and Instagram. Lately, we even share “selfies” or the pictures we take of ourselves and post through social media.

Physical Evidence, one of the 7Ps of Marketing, relates to everything your customers see about your brand or business. Visual cues can be your exterior storefront, company signage, and the way you display your merchandise inside. Physical evidence also includes your logo, website, marketing brochures, and any print ad you create for newspapers and magazines.

The goal is to ensure all visual aspects of your business look great so that customers and potential

LiveWork Discusses Branding

Enhancing the brand image of your business was the focus at the February meeting of LiveWork Los Lunas.

Dave Garner of Shebang Creative and Kevin Brown of Kevin Brown Studio showed different examples of branding and discussed how to use branding in any business.

Audience members talked about their experiences making their business grow.

This discussion was coordinated by Jim Glover of The Idea Group. Glover has been working with the Village on branding the community.

Economic Development Manager Ralph Mims gave an overview of what is going on in the Village which included the March ground breaking for IHOP near the intersection of Los Cerritos and Main Street.

The next LiveWork meeting is Tuesday, May 20, 6-7:30 p.m., at the Transportation Center, corner of Courthouse and Juan Perea Roads.

Addresses Being Updated

The Village Community Development Department is updating addresses to make sure emergency services can locate people in case of an emergency.

The update includes making sure streets match in the format used such as lanes or roads and making sure a number makes sense to locate a building.

If you have questions, please call the Community Development Department at 839-3842.

new clients generate favorable impressions of your brand every time they look your way. Take a moment to review the physical elements of your business. Is there room for visual enhancement?

Once you've evaluated your physical evidence, prioritize the order of “fixes” and then set out to improve each one-by-one. The main thing to remember is that with each visual improvement you will be enhancing the stature of your brand as well.

If you have questions, feel free to call me any time, Ralph L. Mims, MCP; Economic Development Manager, Community Development Department; 839-5654, direct line; 604-4156, cell; or e-mail mimsr@loslunasnm.gov.

Support Sought for Medical Center

Construction is still expected to start in summer 2014 with an anticipated opening date of winter 2015 for the Valencia Regional Medical Center (VRMC) on the west side of Los Lunas.

The full $55 million VRMC project would be 110,000 square feet with 85,000 square feet for a hospital and 25,000 square feet of clinic space. It is projected the full VRMC project would create 500 local construction jobs and 450 full-time medical jobs. The VRMC budget is estimated at $40 million a year, including $14 million for salaries and benefits.

Additional information about VRMC is available on the village website at loslunasnm.gov/vrmc.

In 2006 voters approved a mill levy to be allocated to a hospital in Valencia County. That mill levy has been collected since 2007.

Allocation of mill levy funds to VRMC would result in a facility with more services. People are encouraged to contact Valencia County Commissioners to express support for allocating the mill levy to VRMC.
