INTERCHANGE BEAUTIFICATION HAS BEGUN

Work has started on the beautification of Exit 203 into Los Lunas

Both the north and south bound exits will be improved.

Groundbreaking for the beautification project began with a ceremony on August 20, 2015. Speakers at the groundbreaking were Ralph L. Mims, economic development manager, Mayor Pro-Tem Gerard Saiz, Director of Community Development Christina Ainsworth, and Eric Garcia, owner of EFG Creative.

Albuquerque-based EFG Creative designed the gateway. Garcia is a lifelong Valencia County resident.

The design is a 22-foot tall cottonwood tree with a sign in its branches welcoming people to Los Lunas. The design symbolizes the Village's connection to the Bosque, agriculture, and the importance of family.

The Village has also partnered with Molzen Corbin, Roddick & Dunbar

Ltd., and Sequoia Landscaping on this project that will include painting the overpass, landscaping and lighting, and incorporating the Village's community brand "Small Community, Big Possibilities!"

The Village Council approved a bid from Sequoia Landscaping of $812,395 for their part of the beautification project. Sequoia Landscaping was not the low bidder, but due to concerns over federal requirements for the Disadvantaged Enterprise Plan, Sequoia Landscaping was awarded the project.

Funding for the beautification project is primarily coming from the federal government through the State Transportation Department.

The project is scheduled for completion later this year.

Folks line up for food at the August 4, 2015, National Night Out at Daniel Fernandez Park in Los Lunas. Many activities were offered for the evening with lots of people attending.

Los Lunas PD put together 469 backpacks filled with school supplies donated by the community.

SUMMER YOUTH PROGRAM CLEANS UP VILLAGE

During the four weeks the 2015 summer youth employment program operated, the workers picked up 737 bags of trash and weeds from different areas in the Village.

Workers ended the session with a lunch at the Buffalo Wild Wings. Workers recognized for their diligence were Daniel Aranda, Jonathan Luro, and Benjamin Martin. Program coordinator Marie Marquez said the supervisors, Jared Sanders and Ann

All workers were presented certificates noting their hard work. Village Administrator Greg Martin thanked the students and presented them with a small token from the Village for a job well done.

GLASS NOW ACCEPTED 24/7 FOR RECYCLING

The Los Lunas Recycling Facility is now accepting glass 24/7.

Bins have been placed east of the existing plastic bins with signage designating the bins for glass use as well as what type of glass is accepted and what is prohibited.

All glass should be placed in the proper bins and not left on the ground or beside any recycling bins.

Everyone should follow all rules posted to keep the recycling facility safe, clean and operational for all recycling patrons.

Thanks to the community for making the glass grinding recycling effort such a success.
