VILLAGE ISO RATING DROPS TO FOUR

Beginning in December 2016 the Village of Los Lunas will have an ISO (Insurance Services Office) rating of four, a drop from five.

The last time the Village ISO rating dropped was in 2008 when it went from six to five.

The ISO collects information on municipal fire-protection efforts in communities throughout the United States.

The ISO analyzes relevant data using a Fire Suppression Rating Schedule (FSRS) before assigning a Public Protection Classification from 1 to 10.

Class 1 generally represents superior property fire protection, and Class 10 indicates that the area's fire-suppression program doesn't meet ISO's minimum criteria.

Village Fire Chief John Gabaldon attributes the continual lowering of the community's rate to having the necessary equipment, the amount and quality of the staff, and the training of that staff

Open House

More than 250 people learned more about the Village Fire Department during an October open house.

The event included free flu shots given by Walgreens Pharmacy and hot dogs with drinks donated by Farmers Insurance.

BE CAREFUL COOKING THAT TURKEY

The Los Lunas Fire Department asks you to prevent turkey fryer fires!

Frying food is the greatest risk of cooking fires, says Fire Chief John Gabaldon.

Consider the dangers and risks before using a turkey fryer. Go to www.loslunasnm.gov/98/Fire-Department for more information.

New Fire Station

The Village's rating could be further influenced by construction of a new fire station on the west side of I-25.

Voters approved funding the station in the March municipal election.

Chief Gabaldon says the station should be operational by late 2018/early 2019.

Smoke Detectors

The fire department continues its proactive work in the community. In early October fire department staff installed 47 smoke detectors in 21 houses as part of fire prevention month.

This makes a total of 80 smoke detectors installed during 2016.

Folks need to remember to replace smoke detectors every ten years and to change detector batteries twice a year.

The Village Fire Department has nine-volt batteries available to the public at no charge.

SHOP AND EAT HERE IN THE VILLAGE

Over the last few years new shops and restaurants have opened in Los Lunas giving everyone more opportunities to stay in the Village to shop and eat.

New Mexico municipalities, including Los Lunas, depend on the gross receipts taxes collected to fund services such as fire and police protection.

Gross receipt tax and property tax revenue generate more than 50% of the village's general fund revenues.

The general fund pays for services such as police and fire departments, municipal court, library and museum, parks and recreation, community development, and streets, as well as others.
