MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Your Library Director Welcomes You

As Director of the Los Lunas Public Library, I would like to extend to you all an invitation to utilize our library and branch library the Museum of Heritage & Arts, your gateways to a world of information, history, and resources.

The Los Lunas Public Library is empowering the future of our community by allowing all of its patrons — regardless of age, race, or economic status — access to sources of knowledge that change lives. Our library is open six days a week and guarantees that everyone in our community is given the advantages that a public library offers. Free access to computers, the Internet, and free wireless service at both locations make it easy for all to tap into the wealth of online information available. A collection of over 44,000 items — books, DVDs, and audio books, as well as eBooks and eResources — is our legacy to the community we serve.

Our library is a crucial member of this community. Knowledge truly is power, and by providing the keys to information — whether in the form of books, online resources, or programming — the Los Lunas Public Library is opening worlds for so many in our community in various ways. In the past fiscal year, approximately 168 people visited our library and museum each day to access vital information, check out materials, attend programs, or just hang out. In addition, patrons accessed our website to check on their account, renew items, and place items on hold.

We bring the strength of cultural and community unity in the form of our Library and Museum programs that allow us to explore the past and a world outside of our own. Visitors can meet a bestselling author, view an exhibit, or attend a history presentation. For those of you who are parents, our library offers free STEAM events for kids after school and during the summer break. We offer Story Time for all the little non-readers — which includes a story, craft, and preschool activities. Our summer reading program will help not only your child but your whole family to get into the spirit of our library. We offer a variety of programs during the summer — and the opportunity to read for prizes! And we haven't forgotten about all the adults — we have a program for you too!

So, welcome to the Los Lunas Public Library, a world of knowledge and information found nowhere else.

Cynthia J. Shetter

EXHIBITS & PRESENTATIONS

HISTORY EXHIBITS & PRESENTATIONS

The Los Lunas Museum of Heritage & Arts strives to interpret the rich, multi-cultural history of the Village of Los Lunas and Valencia County through recurring exhibits and presentations on the people and events that have shaped our community.

The Village of Los Lunas traces its origins to the eighteenth century, although incorporation occurred in 1928. For nearly two-and-a-half centuries, Los Lunas has stood at a crossroads in North America. Centuries before its settlement, native peoples inhabited sites along the Rio Grande and Rio Puerco, and they engaged in hunting and gathering throughout the region. Their trails extended far afield in all directions, and when Spaniards began exploring present-day New Mexico in the sixteenth century, they followed existing trails. Don Juan de Oñate's entrada in 1598 established a public road maintained by the Spanish Crown, and during the Colonial Era, settlements such as Los Lunas remained connected to Mexico over the Camino Real. Later, in the twentieth century, Los Lunas was included in 1926 in the first, circuitous route of U.S. Highway 66, a distinction enjoyed until 1937 when the auto trail was rerouted.

Jesus Gallegos' Acoma Station located west of the Luna Mansion on Main Street

In addition to the Village's location at the crossroads of the Camino Real and Route 66, Los Lunas figures into many other historical episodes. During the Spanish Colonial Era, the establishment of the San Clemente Land Grant in July 1716 spurred settlement in the Rio Abajo, including the future site of Los Lunas. By 1778, a mission church had been established south of Isleta and north of Los Chaves, and in the following year it first appeared on a map as "S. Clemente." In the early Nineteenth Century, families such as the Lunas and Oteros moved large herds of sheep into the region. As the principal landowners, the settlement that emerged near the mission church soon became associated with the Luna family or Los Lunas.

By mid-century, when the United States acquired much of northern Mexico, the War Department established posts throughout New Mexico. From 1852 to 1860, dragoons stationed at the Post at Los Lunas protected settlers and travelers along the Camino Real. On April 15, 1862, Confederate and Union forces fought a skirmish in the neighboring community of Peralta as the Confederate Army retreated southward from their loss at the Battle of Glorieta east of Santa Fe. In the post-Civil War era, the population of Los Lunas slowly grew with the influx of immigrants from the United States and Europe. Agriculture, livestock raising, and mercantilism served as the community's economic foundation until the tracks of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe Railroad arrived in 1880, becoming yet another route connecting Los Lunas to the world beyond.

ART EXHIBITS

The Museum of Heritage & Arts serves as a conduit for area artists to display and sell their pieces in a professional setting through an annual juried art show and an annual student art show. The Museum has hosted the Pastel Society of New Mexico, the New Mexico Watercolor Society and Ayer, Hoy, y Mañana -Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow, an exhibition of traditional and contemporary Hispanic artists from this area and northern New Mexico.

TOURS

The Museum of Heritage & Arts plans a variety of low cost tours throughout the year to educate people on New Mexico's unique history. Here is a sampling of the past tours:

Saints & Sinners Tour - There are five unique Catholic churches in the area - San Agustin de Isleta, San Antonio de Los Lentos, Our Lady of Guadalupe in Peralta, Sangre de Cristo in Valencia, and Immaculate Conception in Tomé. In the fall we choose three of the churches to visit, have lunch at the Museum and end at the Camino Real Winery for a history on wine making and wine tasting. $30

Los Lunas Mystery Stone - About 17 miles west of Los Lunas off Highway 6 is a large stone with the Ten Commandments written in Paleo-Hebrew chiseled on it. The mystery is - no one knows who wrote it or when. $5

Salinas Pueblo Missions National Monument - The Salinas Pueblo Missions National Monument consist of Abó, Quarai, and Gran Quivira. These sites stand as reminders of the early encounters of the Spanish and Pueblo peoples — a time entrenched with cultural borrowing, conflict and struggles. $5 and a sack lunch.

Civil War in New Mexico - We travel south of Socorro to the ruins of Fort Craig where the Battle of Valverde took place nearby in February of 1862 between Confederate Texans and Union soldiers. On occasion Socorro historians do a reenactment of the bloody battle and we will plan the tour to coincide. $5 and a sack lunch.

Trinity Site - In October each year, White Sands Missile Range opens to the public to visit the test site of the first atomic bomb and learn about the Manhattan Project. $5 and a sack lunch.

Historic Los Lunas - Tour of historic buildings in Los Lunas such as Huning Mercantile, Teri's Sweet Garden, the Luna Mansion, and Teofilo's Restaurante. Lunch is included $30.

Please check with the Museum at 505-352-7720 about upcoming tours.

We travel to the sites on 11-and-12 passenger buses. The fees charged help offset the cost of gas and lunches. Prices are subject to change due to increased entry fees and gas prices.

HISTORY — ROUTE 66 PRE-1937

In 1925, a stretch of automobile highway was completed in Los Lunas. This road was part of a circuitous route that ran from Santa Rosa to Romeroville, southwest of Las Vegas, before turning south to Santa Fe and then down to Los Lunas. Fred D. Huning Sr. was instrumental in overseeing the paving of this portion of highway. As the highway construction work was ongoing, on Armistice Day in 1926 the establishment of the United State Route 66 was realized. Travelers were making the trek from the east to the west coast on this new national highway that became known as the Mother Road. California was the destination, drawing many for a variety of reasons. Oil, movies, manufacturing, military installations, Trans-Pacific trade, and agriculture were the key drivers of growth.

As his ancestors before him, Fred D. Huning Sr., Joseph F. Tondre, and many other residents of Los Lunas recognized the opportunity being presented. This induced them to incorporate on August 7, 1928.

On October 29, 1929, Black Tuesday, the nation was launched into the Great Depression. Gas stations and lodging were built along Main St. as the some 300 residents of Los Lunas witnessed a mass exodus to California seeking employment. Los Lunas became an integral stopping point on the road west... Route 66.

Mule trains were used to build Route 66, 1925 (Left). Climaco Aguirre gas station located on Main St. across from the Museum today (Right). (Photos: Museum of Heritage & Arts)

John Steinbeck described Route 66 in his iconic 1939 novel, The Grapes of Wrath as...

“...the path of a people in flight, refugees from dust and shrinking land, from thunder of tractors and shrinking ownership, from the desert’s slow northward invasion, from the twisting winds that howl up out of Texas, from floods that bring no richness to the land and steal what little richness is there. From all of these the people are in flight, and they come into [Route] 66 from tributary side roads, from the wagon tracks and the rutted country roads. [Route] 66 is the mother road, the road of flight.”

“...there’s an end to Texas. Tucumcari and Santa Rosa and into the New Mexican mountains to Albuquerque, where the road comes down from Santa Fe. Then down the gorged Rio Grande to Los Lunas and west again on 66 to Gallup, and then there’s the border of New Mexico.”

Today, only one of the era’s service stations remains on Main Street in Los Lunas on the northwest corner of the intersection of Highway 6 and Highway 314 as a testament to the glory age of the Mother Road.
